

Fundraising Tips for Student Travel

There was a fundraising question in regards to student travel trips during our webinar. As homeschoolers, we have a unique opportunity to teach our students about how to make money. This is a great life lesson that everyone should know before stepping into the world of adults. As adults, we go to work if we want to get paid, the same principle can be taught to our students at any age.

Below are some resources to help get you started brain storming. Remember that your student has many gifts and interests that can be used to make money. If they can use these gifts, it will make the task interesting and fulfilling.

Fundraising Ideas

Online Fundraising such as Go Fund Me

Posting your goal on Facebook or asking support in your fundraising sales.

Write a letter to friends and family asking for support of the trip outlining educational and real-life learning opportunities.

Mow lawns, rake leaves, shovel snow...

Walk dogs/ Pet sitting service

Scholarship Opportunities: I ran across this on the internet. Please research carefully before applying to make sure that the funds can be used for our trip.
